The 3,501 persons who attended the bargain matines of base ball between Wash-ington and Beston yesterday had the full worth of their money and there was no complaining, even if the locals did not take both games. The superb pitching of both Carrick, who figured in the centre both Carries, who are designed and of the diamond in the opening game, and Colonel Lee, who attended to the box work during the second part of the performance, was alone worth the price of Carrick was unsuccessful in etting away from the hoodee that has maliciously and continuously haunted him for the past three months, and, even if he did succeed in holding Jimmy Collins and his energetic followers down to three little hits, while his com little hits, while his companions were rolling up seven neat cracks, the Senators could not bag the contest.

One inning, the fourth, spoiled it all for Carrick. He gave two bases on balls and an unfortunate error, aided by two hits of the timely variety, enabled Boston to get four men over the plate and cinch the game. With the exception of this ioning Carrick performed in rare style. He had speed, shoots, and all the tricks of his trade at his command, but that housing was all powerful. The score:

sickness is always traced to some definite cause. There is a remedy called BeGole's Nervotone's that is just as natural to health as water is to thirst.

It is the very basis of health. It enters the blood, tingles the nerves, reaches the vitals, the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, the nerves of motion, of feeling, of action, arouses all the muscles and no matter what the cause of weakness this wenderful remedy incites strength and activity. Weak men attain vigor, sick women get well, and whether it be youthful indiscretion or any other cause that drains the vitality of its strength BeGole's Nervotones will brace you up and make you strong, vigorous and full of life.

Do not doubt or despair but send your name and address at once to M. BeGole & Co., 429 Main St., Marshall, Mich., and they will gladly send you free in a plain wrapper a large box of BeGole's Nervotones absolutely free. no trouble in retiring the side and Colone; Lee never flinched in the performance of his duty.

After the Senators had second one run in the third inning of the second game, they settled down to real business in the sixth, and provaded enough excitement for two ordinary contests. At the conclusion of the inning the Washington seung men had to their credit four more runs than they commenced the inning with. This quartette of tallies was secured in this fashion: Clarke doubled, and reached third on Grady's hit for one bag. Coughlin's crack for a pillow sent Clarke home and Clingman's hit for two bases to right permitted Grady and Coughlin to score. The local shortstop hardly had time to draw a breath when he was called upon to continue his journey home ward on Waldron's hit to center. It seemed as if we simply couldn't quit making runs, but the run-getting habit was squeiched when Farrell flew to Hemphill. Ferris scored Boston's first run in the sixth and in the ninth Stahl reached first on Luskey's muff of his fly. A moment later Stahl scored on Collins three-bagger and the leader of the visiting team got home when Freeman was retired at first. Score:

President Hart that the speedy acceptance of his resignation would give him the greatest joy. Waddell has not been with the team for a week or more. He suddenly conceived a desire to go on an extended fishing trip several days ago and hied himself away to Fourth Lake, a pond near Lake Villa, where the finny tribe is supposed to be very abundant. The great southpaw was so well satisfied with his fishing experience that he forgot all about the baseball world and lengthened his trip until President Hart and Manager Loftus became worried. A telegram was sent to Waddell from New York, where the team is now playing a series with the Giants to determine tallend honors, ordering him to report for series with the Giants to determine tall-end honors, ordering him to report for duty within three days. In answer to this Waddell sent a telegram saying that he had had all the baseball that he wanted for the present season. After sending his an-swer, "Rube" confided to a friend that he litended purchasing a saloon on the West Side, and that he would devote his time in the future to a busiless career in that line.—Chicago Chronicle.

TIRED OUT.

There's many a farmer's wife sits on the porch in the growing shadows of a summer evening, knowing to the full what it is to feel tired out; as if there was not another ounce of effort left in her. But she knows how sound her slumber will be and how refreshed the morning will find her. That's the tiredness of a healthy woman. But it's another thing for the sick woman to feel tired out. Rest only seems to increase her suffering. Just as in profound silence a discord jars the ear more forcibly, so now that she -/1 has stopped moving about, moving about, this tired woman feels more acutely the aching back and throbbing nerves.

Sick women, hundreds of thousands of them, have been made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"Words cannot tell what I suffered for thirteen years with uterine trouble and dragging-down pains through my hips and back," writes Mrs. John Dickson, of Grenfell, Assimboia Dist., N. W. Ter. "I can't describe the misery it was to be on my feet long at a time. I could not eat nor sleep. Oilen I wished to die. Then I saw Dr. Pierce's medicines advertised and thought I would try them. Had not taken one bottle till I was feeling well. After I had taken five bottles of "Favorite Prescription" and one of "Golden Medical Discovery' I was like a new woman, Could eat and sleep and do all my own work."

"One of the most mortifying finishes to a long shadowing expedition was that which happened to me shortly after Detective Armstrong came on the force. I was assigned to take Armstrong around and show him the ropes. As we came out of detective headquarters I noticed two well-dressed young men passing by, who were evidently strangers in the city. Casually watching them go up the street, I saw them stop on the corner, converse a moment and then separate, one going away and the other standing on the corner. In a few moments the other one came back and they moved away. Intuition or something of the sort told me that the men had a scheme on foot, and I told Armstrong to join me in following them. They went a block or two and again separated, one going away for a few minutes and then returning, after which the march was resumed. This thing kept up until the middle of the afternoon, the performance being repeated every few blocks. We soon found that the man whose turn it was to go away always went into a saloon, and the way in which they worked convinced me that they were passing counterfeit money, so each place they visited was carefully noted for future reference.

"After trailing them around until I thought enough of the bad money had been pussed to secure conviction, provided they were passing bad money, I deter-

In the word. He drove his men with force, represented in the hard end of a marilinspike or belaying pin; and the vocabulary to which he resorted at these times would appear out of place in the forecastle fedaly.

The men of the merchant fleet, said a skipper of the sixties today, 'have improved so fast thereby to the saidors from the chitches of the bearings he was a mow in must nown as of the saidors from the chitches of the bearings had to mind, and now the men that ship before the must have somekity to look out for them in most every part of the craimps; they made laws that even the captains had to mind, and now the men that ship before the must have somekity to look out for them in most every part of the craimps; they made laws that even the said the foreign in the country of the mast have somekity to look out for them in most every part of the captains had to mind, and now the men that ship before the mast have somekity to look out for them in most every part of the captains had to mind, and now the men that ship before the mast have somekity to look out for them in most every part of the captains, and the half-empty demijohns and chucked em overboard. The erew captain ships that clear the harbor, out there, without or gall it. Saltors come aboard pretty well boozed. They don't feel much slike work, and the mate's just got to make 'em.

That's all. It's a plain proposition. But it's nothing to what it used to be. When a big ship clears now the men don't have much to do. The little donkey engine at the foremast jerks the anchor out of them and it is nothing to what it used to be. When a big ship clears now the men don't have much to do.
